Who Said That?

Match each quote to the name of the person who said it.

1. "Arizona's greatness lies in the sum total of its geography and its peoples and their efforts from prehistoric times to come to terms with a land that makes no concessions to human beings."

2. "Fort Yuma is probably the hottest place on earth. The thermometer stays at one hundred and twenty in the shade there all the time - except when it varies and goes higher."

Barry Goldwater, U.S. Senator

3. "If the feds aren't going to do their job, well, then, I'm up to suing the feds to make them do their job! I mean, they sued Arizona, you know, we can sue them back!"

Rex Allen Jr., country music singer

4. "I love you, Arizona; your mountains, deserts and streams; the rise of Dos Cabezas and the outlaws I see in my dreams; I love you Arizona, Superstitions and all; the warmth you give at sunrise; your sunsets put music in us all."

Lawrence Clark Powell, librarian and author

5. "We have serious enemies and growing threats around the world. Unfortunately, we have an administration whose idea of a rogue state is Arizona."

John Wesley Powell, Colorado River explorer

6. "You cannot see the Grand Canyon in one view, as if it were a changeless spectacle from which a curtain might be lifted, but to see it you have to toil from month to month through its labyrinths."

Mark Twain, author and humorist

7. "What ideal, immutable Platonic cloud could equal the beauty and perfection of any ordinary everyday cloud floating over, say, Tuba City, Arizona, on a hot day in June?"

Edward Abbey, environmental advocate

8. "This land of Arizona has had an exciting history, so dramatic and inspiring that it needs no exaggeration or fictional embellishment."

Mitt Romney, governor of Massachusetts and presidential candidate
